

Emergent Literacy Series, Birth to Age 5 – Laying the Foundation for Literacy Success

Information: The Office of Approaches to Teaching and Professional Learning, collaborating with the Office of Early Learning and School Readiness, will host a three-part Birth–Age 5 Emergent Literacy Series in fall 2019. The series consists of:

- Part 1 - Introduction to Emergent Literacy & Teaching Early Phonological Awareness;
- Part 2 - Developing Oral Language and Vocabulary for Emergent Literacy; and
- Part 3 - Building Print Awareness Through Interactive Read-Alouds.

Find more information about each part on the OCCRA website and in STARS. Participants will be expected to attend all three sessions to receive credit through OCCRA’s Ohio Professional Registry. They will earn additional hours by taking part in “connect to the classroom” activities that apply the concepts learned in the sessions to classroom practice. Again, to earn credit, participants must complete all three sessions and take part in the “Connect to the Classroom” work.

Target Audience: Preschool teachers, paraprofessionals, supervisors, childcare workers, kindergarten teachers and others looking to build emergent literacy skills in children from birth–age 5.

Facilitators: Carolyn Turner and Michelle Elia, Ohio Literacy Leads

Dates and Times: Presenters will conduct all three parts at four locations across the state. Each session is from 8:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Registration: Register through OCCRA using the corresponding ST numbers and/or through STARS by using the Keyword emergent. There are no registration fees for the sessions.
