More information

It is hard to believe that this will be our final Regional Transition Networking for the year. As always, we have another packed agenda for our event, so packed that we may run over by about a half hour. We will have a presentation about Stable Accounts as well as a presentation from Frederick Wentz, who is the author of the book "Soft Skills Training". We will also be providing a copy of Fred's book and workbook to the first 40 participants, who are willing to implement and share some strategies from the book next year. There will be a third presentation from Summit Academy, who held a huge virtual Career Day event. And of course, there will be some resource sharing. Please use the link at the bottom of this document to submit any questions from the field that you may have.
